Here's how to do it Why is my download speed so slow?Internet speed is measured by how much data per second can be downloaded and uploaded.

To do that you'll need to access your router's admin page in a web browser You'll need to consult its manual, or look for a sticker on the bottom of the router, for an IP address, username and password.. It should be away from walls, the floor and the ceiling as much as possible And keep it away from metal furniture, which will reflect radio waves rather than allow them to pass through.
